UM STUDENT FROM HELENA TO SPEND YEAR IN FRANCE
UNDER FOREIGN EXCHANGE TEACHER ASSISTANT PROGRAM

MISSOULA --

The University of Montana French department has chosen UM student Pat Day of Helena to spend a year in France teaching under the Foreign Exchange Teacher Assistant Program. Wanda Platt of Butte will be an alternate.

Day will teach English conversation classes to French high school students as well as help instructors of English with their regular duties. While living in France, he will receive a stipend and benefits from the French government.

Day will graduate this spring from UM with a bachelor's degree in French and in English literature. In 1984, he participated in the UM Fall Quarter Study Abroad Program, which is directed by the French Department and takes place every year for 10 weeks in Burgundy, France.

Platt will also graduate this spring from UM, with a bachelor's degree in French linguistics.
